Many thanks for purchasing our Expresso FX Tup Fuzz. Tup Fuzz is a high gain fuzz pedal reminiscent of a specific variation of pedals that often people refer to using a particular animal's head. This is precisely where the name "Tup" Fuzz comes from. The pedal is fitted with two extra toggle switches for boosting the mid and bass frequencies, making the pedal much more versatile. It can easily venture into other variations' territories.

We have sourced an amazing stock of rare and highly sought after NOS components; some amazing NOS Mullard Tropical Fish (C280) capacitors, NOS Allen Bradley carbon composition resistors, and some top grade NOS Motorola BC239C transistors. Our Tup Fuzz takes you ever so close to the mojo of vintage units.

We follow our same tradition of extreme attention to detail when putting these pedals together. Every component used is of the highest quality, with absolutely no compromise. We use shielded audio-grade wire, Silver plated hookup wire, Alpha pots, genuine Vero stripboard, Carling/Alpha footswitches, all put together using Silver-based solder. The circuit is also housed in a genuine large Hammond enclosure, professionally powder coated to our exact specification.

All in all, this is an amazing pedal that produces all the fine subtleties of the original units but without the price tag.
